

Christmas Fayre Opening

Pictured below is Gillian Fraser, the popular Border TV newsreader.

Gillian, a resident of Abbeytown, opened the Holme St Cuthbert's Christmas Fayre in December, 2001.

There was a good show of cakes and bric-a-brac on sale, there even appears to be a modern house for sale displayed on the stage.

Silloth & District Business Association

What are they?

This is a group of hard-working, small-business people who work in and around Silloth. Formed on 9th July, 1998, the group's aim is to improve this lovely town and surrounding district and help to save it from decline. So far some headway has been achieved, but there is a long way to go.

The town's annual Christmas Lights are one of the group's achievements. Congratulations to everyone for the wonderful displays you put in your shop windows and homes, although it made it very difficult to judge them. Well done everyone!

Other achievements are the signs on the motorway and the signs to the west beach. The group feels sure that everyone in this community would like to see the area progress into the new century, and with your support this can be achieved. Open meetings are often arranged with local Members of Parliament and the group would be delighted if you would join them, so look out for notices!

New members are also needed – there are many self employed tradesmen in this area who would be made very welcome should they decide to visit our monthly meetings. Why not go along a couple of times to see what they get up to. The meetings are usually a mixture of working to improve the town and having a social drink. They are a friendly lot and you would be made very welcome. Meetings are usually on Mondays in The Golf Hotel.

They are, of course:

The Silloth and District Business Association.
